

REMARKS

Claims 1-20 are presently pending and stand rejected.

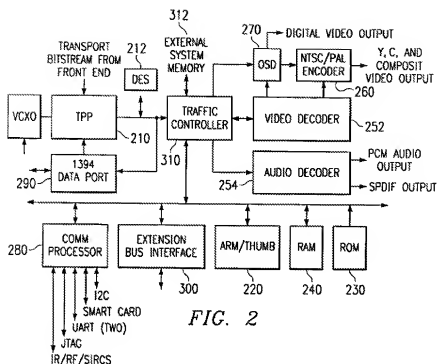

Claims 1 and 11 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being obvious from the combination of Cottle and Dye.

Claim 1 recites, among other limitations "transmitting header packets from the window controller to the display engine". Claim 11 recites, among other limitations, "wherein the window controller transmits header packets to the display engine".

Examiner has indicated that "Cottle teaches transmission of header packets containing data describing windows (col. 24, lines 23-30; col. 74, lines 20-28)". Assignee respectfully submits that even if the foregoing was true, Cottle does not teach the claimed "transmitting header packets from the window controller to the display engine".

Examiner appears to read "window controller" on the "on screen display controller (OSD)". Col. 24, lines 23-30 refers to Fig. 17F while "Figs. 18A to 18Y depict details of the OSD". Col. 74, lines 20-28 refers to the "Transport Packet Parser".

Note the location of the Transport Packet Processor, "TPP" "210" and the On Screen Display Controller, "OSD" "270". Even if the claimed "windows controller" reads on the OSD, and even if "Cottle teaches transmission of header packets containing data describing windows", Cottle does not teach the claimed "transmitting header packets from the window controller to the display engine".

Accordingly, Assignee respectfully traverses the rejections to claims 1 and 11 and requests that Examiner withdraw the rejections. Additionally, Assignee requests that Examiner withdraw the rejections to claims 2-10 and 12-20.

CONCLUSION

For at least the foregoing reasons, Assignee submits that each of the pending claims are now in a condition for allowance. Accordingly, Examiner is requested to pass this case to issuance.

It is believed that all monies for the actions described herein are provided with this correspondence. To the extent that additional monies are required for any of the actions requested in the correspondence, Commissioner is authorized to charge such fees and credit any overpayments to deposit account 13-0017.

Respectfully Submitted
